Lauren Judson

To Support Children's Healthcare of Atlanta

Judson Family Story:

A couple months after the death of my parents, my college coach and I proposed an idea for a tournament in honor of my parents, an event to be considered the "Masters" of women's collegiate golf. The Judson Collegiate Invitational & The Legends Tour Atlanta Pro Am encompasses many values of my parents. It includes friendly competition between the most elite of college and Legends players – and benefits an amazing charity, Children's Healthcare of Atlanta. Three core values my parents held dear were faith, family, and friends. I am truly honored to share these values of raising money for charity, spending time with friends, and sharing my parents with everyone involved in this tournament.
